The full report provides detailed tables summarizing the results of AACSB International's 2018-19 Global Salary Survey. This document includes excerpts from the reports including the executive summaries for the Worldwide and United States full reports. The survey includes data for 39,387 faculty members and 9,244 administrators. Salary data was collected in 28 fields of specialization plus a category entitled "other." For the executive summary, the data were grouped into 18 fields. In the full reports, individual tables show the mean, median, maximum and minimum salaries for each rank and for new hires at each rank. Tables also include percentiles (90th, 75th, 25th, 10th). For each field, separate tables are provided for each of the following:

- Public Accredited
- Public Non-Accredited
- Public
- Private Accredited
- Private Non-Accredited
- Private
- Accredited
- Non-Accredited
- All AACSB Members

The Salary Survey is prepared with the cooperation and assistance of AACSB International member institutions and their staffs. AACSB's salary survey information is voluntary and is not connected formally or informally with AACSB International accreditation. There is no AACSB International accreditation standard related to salaries.

PREFACE

These executive summaries are based on data gathered through the 2018-2019 worldwide salary survey. This was the 56th year that the Salary Survey has been available to all AACSB member schools worldwide regardless of location. As a growing study, this report reflects a sample size that incorporates the full number of participants. The full reports have been separated into distinct sections to control for the larger United States sample size and focus on specific regions:

- Worldwide - All Participants
- Worldwide - Excluding United States
- United States
- Canada
- Europe and Near East

Our special thanks go to the schools from outside of the United States and Canada that participated in this survey. A total of 56 schools reported data for 39,387 faculty and 9,244 administrative position salaries. Twenty four different currencies were represented in the survey responses.

The sections of the full reports are divided by institutional control, accreditation status, discipline, and faculty rank. Salary information was collected in thousands to one decimal point. If a line is blank, then no data was reported or is not shown due to confidentiality restrictions. An asterisk (*) indicates that the salary is not shown due to confidentiality standards. This is used when it is potentially possible to determine the reporting school in order to preserve full confidentiality for all schools.

2016-17 Salary Survey U.S. Executive Summary

The results of AACSB International’s 49th annual Salary Survey, the most comprehensive and credible in the industry, are in. This executive summary provides an overview of the results for participating U.S. schools. The full report that follows provides detailed breakouts by field/discipline, accreditation status and institutional control (public vs. private). Custom Salary Survey reports also are available.

AACSB invited 644 business schools and academic units among educational members in the United States to participate in this year’s survey. Reflecting the high value placed on the reports created using the survey data, member participation was high among accredited institutions at 88.1 percent with overall participation at 78.0 percent. Table 1 describes the participation rate by institutional control and accreditation status.

The 502 participating U.S. schools provided data on 29,937 business faculty members across all ranks and 28 business fields and 5,596 administrators in 25 positions normally found in business schools. Of 5,596 administrative salaries reported, 1,140 were on a 9-month basis, while 4,456 were on a 12-month basis.

The distribution of participating institutions by 2005 Carnegie Classifications is shown in Table 2.a. illustrates reasonable diversity in participation while showing higher participation percentages among doctoral universities.

U.S. Business Faculty Market Trends

The average full-time faculty 9-month salary across all ranks and fields increased 3.0 percent to $132,509 from $128,702, as compared to last year's 2.7 percent increase over 2014. This is a total increase of 10.9 percent from 2012-13 to 2016-17. While the largest increase in average salary by the named fields below, 9.4 percent, was in the rank of instructor in Quantitative Methods/Operations Research/Statistics, the salaries for most ranks and disciplines also showed small to moderate increases. The portion of full-time faculty classified as new hires increased from 8.5 to 8.7 percent. On average, each school welcomed 5.2 new faculty members in the fall of 2016, showing a slight increase from 2015. Continuing the transition in faculty qualification types, and representing the data reported for only these four categories, 12.3 percent of full-time faculty were classified as Instructional Practitioners, 5.6 percent as Practice Academics, 72.3 percent as Scholarly Academics, 3.9 percent as Scholarly Practitioners.

The distribution of hiring activity has shifted over the last sixteen years. Table 3 shows the share of hiring activity by field/discipline in the current year with 2000 and 2006 for comparison.

From 18.6 in 2015-16, Accounting/Taxation held steady at 18.5 percent. Hiring activity in Finance/Banking/Real Estate/Insurance decreased from 14.9 to 13.1 percent.

Table 4 shows the percent of full-time faculty indicated as non-tenure track. Non-tenure track positions dominate the rank of instructor, but still account for only a small fraction at the ranks of professor, associate professor and assistant professor. The portion of full-time faculty holding the rank of instructor increased to 18.5 percent from 17.9 percent last year. In 2016, 30.3 percent of the new hires held instructor rank and 57.9 percent were at the assistant professor rank.

2016-17 Salary Survey All International Participants Executive Summary

The results of AACSB International’s 49th annual Salary Survey, the most comprehensive and credible in the industry, are in. This executive summary provides an overview of the results for the worldwide and all participant companion report to the 2016-2017 Salary Survey Report – All Participants. The full report that follows provides detailed breakouts by field/discipline, accreditation status and institutional control (public vs. private). Custom Salary Survey reports also are available.

AACSB invited over 1,500 member business schools, academic units, and partner schools to participate in this year’s survey. Reflecting the high value placed on the reports created using the survey data, member participation was high among accredited institutions at 88.1 percent (U.S.)/65.5 percent for all participants, with overall participation at 78.1 percent (U.S.)/39.2 percent for all participants.

The 594 participating schools provided data on 37,165 business faculty members across all ranks and 28 business fields and 7,024 administrators in 25 positions normally found in business schools. Of 7,024 administrative salaries reported, 1,217 were on a 9-month basis, while 5,807 were on a 12-month basis.

This is the tenth year that all AACSB member schools were invited to participate in the Salary Survey. As participation grows and we gather comparable data across years, this report will begin to include annual trend tables similar to those reported in the U.S. version of the report. Please note that the data includes a wide variety of currencies, so all have been converted to U.S. dollars for comparison purposes. Data were collected on a 9-month or 12-month contract basis. All faculty salaries have been converted to a 9-month salary basis for comparison purposes. Administrative salaries are reported by reported contract length.
